Web III

Story Telling

Elizabeth travels all the way from Brooklyn to Manhattan for school. Today, IS Wednesday and we're in Web III lab, located at Room #213. As her fiancé texted her saying he wants to go on a romance date. So, she decided to get a beautiful outfit on Boohoo website. So, after typing Boohoo.com, she looks carefully and curiously to the designs of the outfits. She prefers low price merchandises. While, she checks the price differences, eventually, she adds something to the shopping section and is nearly for her date. However, she got some difficulties regrading language change, customer services and also customer service feedback which would definitely have impacts on staying aa a loyal customer
